Brief Write-up in English	The Department of Physics successfully organized the International Conference on Futuristic Materials (ICFM-20) from December 18 to 20, 2020, bringing together renowned scientists, researchers, and academicians from across the globe. The conference focused on emerging trends and innovations in advanced materials, nanotechnology, energy materials, and smart systems. Participants presented cutting-edge research and engaged in insightful discussions on the role of futuristic materials in shaping technological advancement. The event provided an excellent platform for knowledge exchange, interdisciplinary collaboration, and promotion of scientific research. The conference was well-received and contributed significantly to the academic and research environment of the department.
